ORGANIZIONS

The Thread That Runs So True

"The Thread That Runs So True" was under the direction of Mr. Howard Crandall and Mrs. Bonnie Newcomer.

The play was about a young school teacher, Jesse Stuart, and all his struggles to keep a school. With three years of high school, he was sent on his way to start his teaching career. During the play, one sees his firm determination.

What's for lunch?

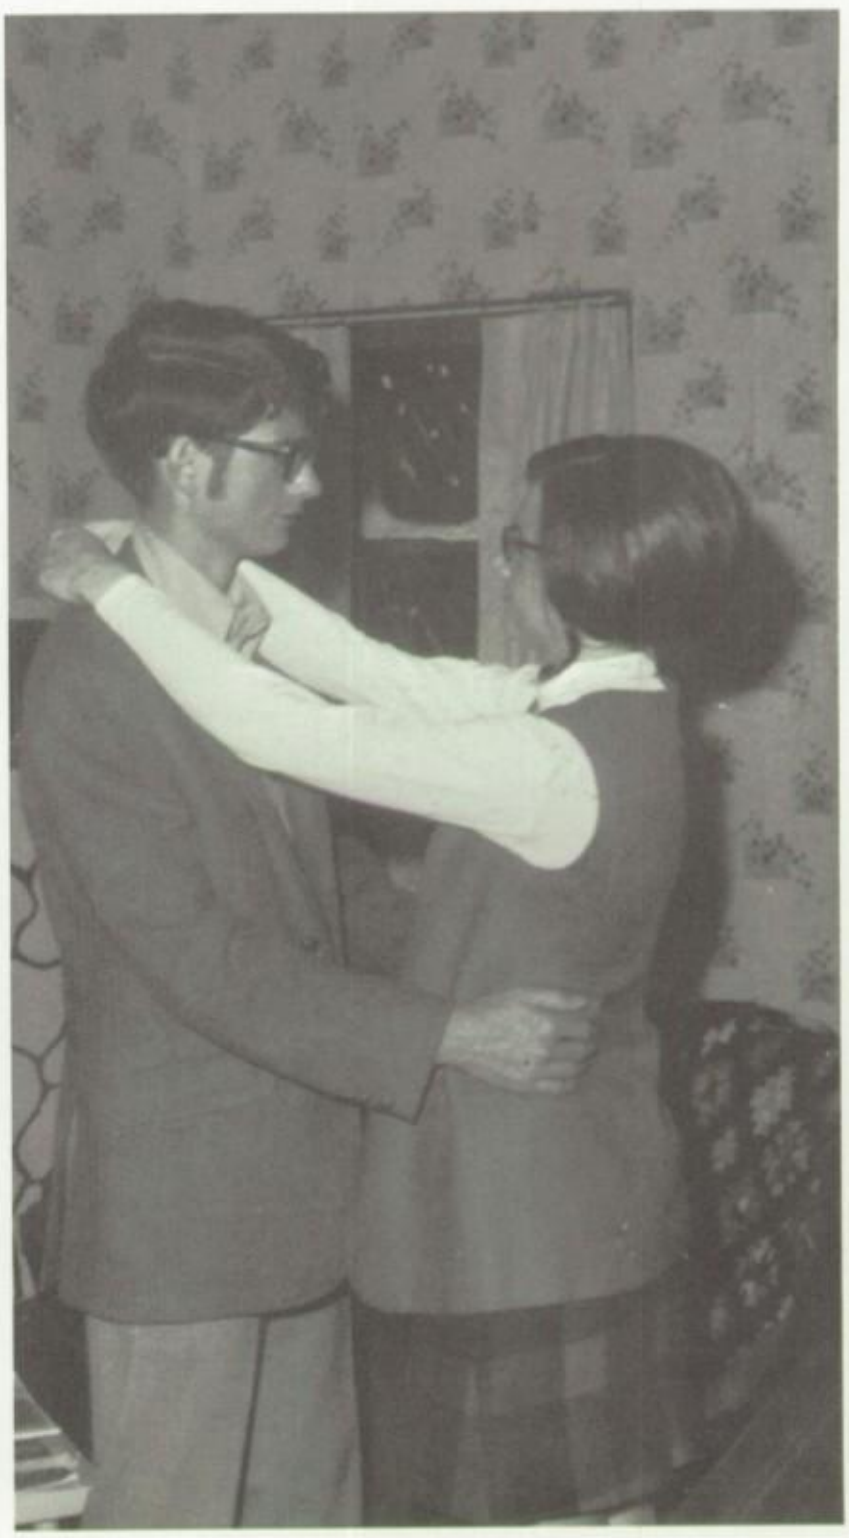
Terror At Black Oaks

A shot rings out! In the dim light a figure gasps its last breath and expires. The wind wails on. A scene from "The Twilight Zone?" A big city murder? No! This scene from the junior play. "Terror at Black Oaks," presented April 13 and 15.

The mystery-comedy, co-directed by Mr. Crandall, Bob Petterson, and Linda Elder, is the story of comedy duo, Lee Ludwig and Kevin Kohler, who are stranded in a snowstorm at Black Oaks. The faithful housekeeper, Pene Dreibelbis, and her son, Mike Snyder, along with family Becky Treaster, Karen Bassford, Carolyn Wilson, Jan Hartenbower, Sara Severance, and Joe Mehl, are joined by Mike Kadel, Mike Haddock and Carol Campbell to re-live the night of Uncle Algernon's death. Tom Hopkins was in charge of props.

"That's a loss the world can well afford."



"I love you. I'm going to my room."

"Gun's empty, gun's empty."

"This hurts me as much as it hurts you."

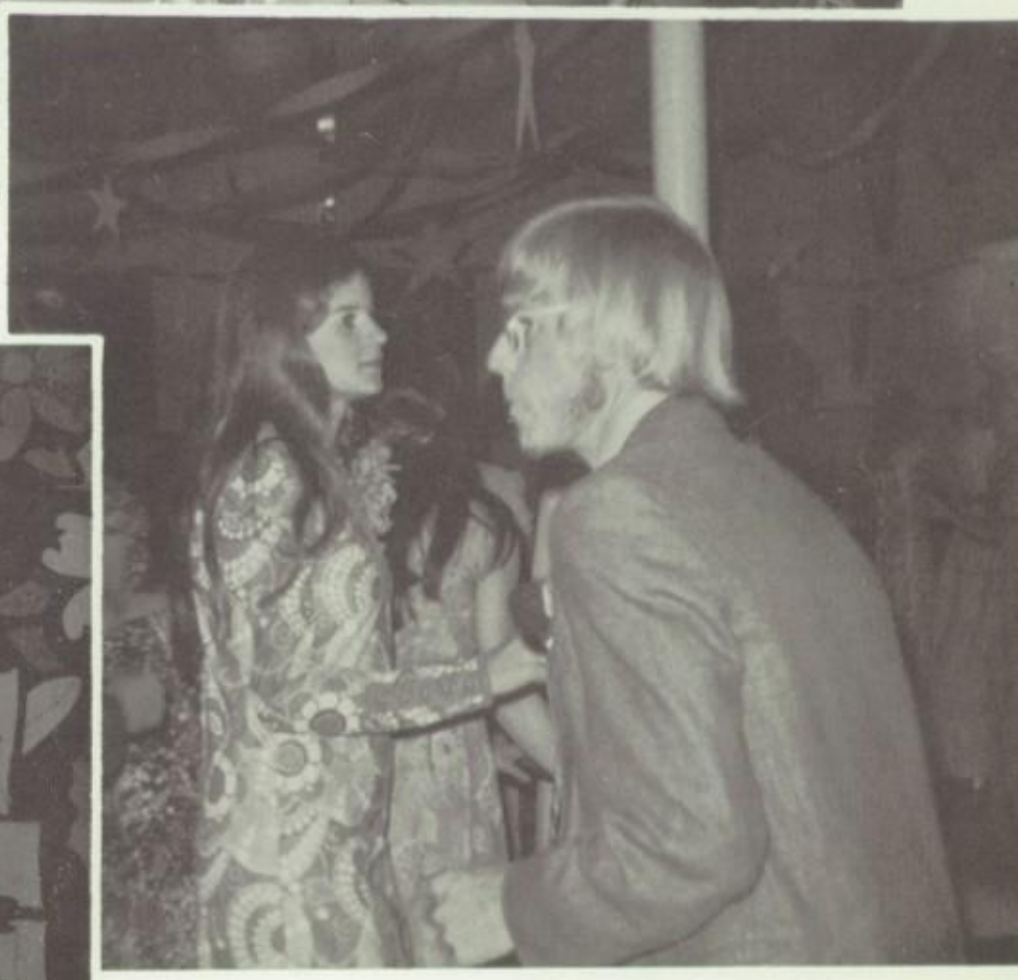
Court Of The Crimson King

The upperclassmen of B. H. S. and their dates danced to the music of "Easy Street" in "Court of the Crimson King", the 1970 Christmas Prom, while the light from a silver faceted ball shone on their faces. Complying with the theme, the court was decked in crimson with shining highlights of gold and silver. Glittering jewels and crowns hung from the doorway, as the senior officers greeted each guest in a truly majestic manner.

Black Magic Woman

The Juniors and Seniors dined and danced under a silver ball centered in the middle of multicolored streamers, enhanced by glittering stars. The walls consisted of interchanging posters and tiki heads. A long mural drawn by Kevin Kohler highlighted another wall. Orange featherdusters fell from all four corners. Centered in mid-floor was a huge "smoking" witch's cauldron, and a fountain encircling a tiki head enlightening another area. Lee Ludwig welcomed the guests, and Randy File gave the senior acceptance. Sharon Heidrick sang "For All We Know." After the banquet, guests danced to the music of "The Moonraiders."



AROUND THE WORLD IN 80 MINUTES

"Around the World in 80 Minutes," was the Annual BHS Band Show that journeyed the audience to ports in San Francisco, China, Venice, Spain, Germany, France, Istanbul, and New York. Highlights of the visitation featured soloists, quartets, dancers, twirlers, and the larger groups of chorus and pit band.

"Where there's music, there can't be mischief," said Cervantes in Don Quixote. Cervantes hasn't visited the BHS music department. Hard work was combined with mischief, and very creditable performances resulted. The Varsity Band performed at football and basketball games, marching and swinging to the latest music. The chorus and BHS Singers combined traditional and pop music at several concerts through the year. The finest small school orchestra in the area was again continued with participation in spring festival. All phases of the music department combined to present the stage show, "Around the World in Eighty Minutes". Beloit is proud of her music department, and the "mischief" they produce is appreciated by all.

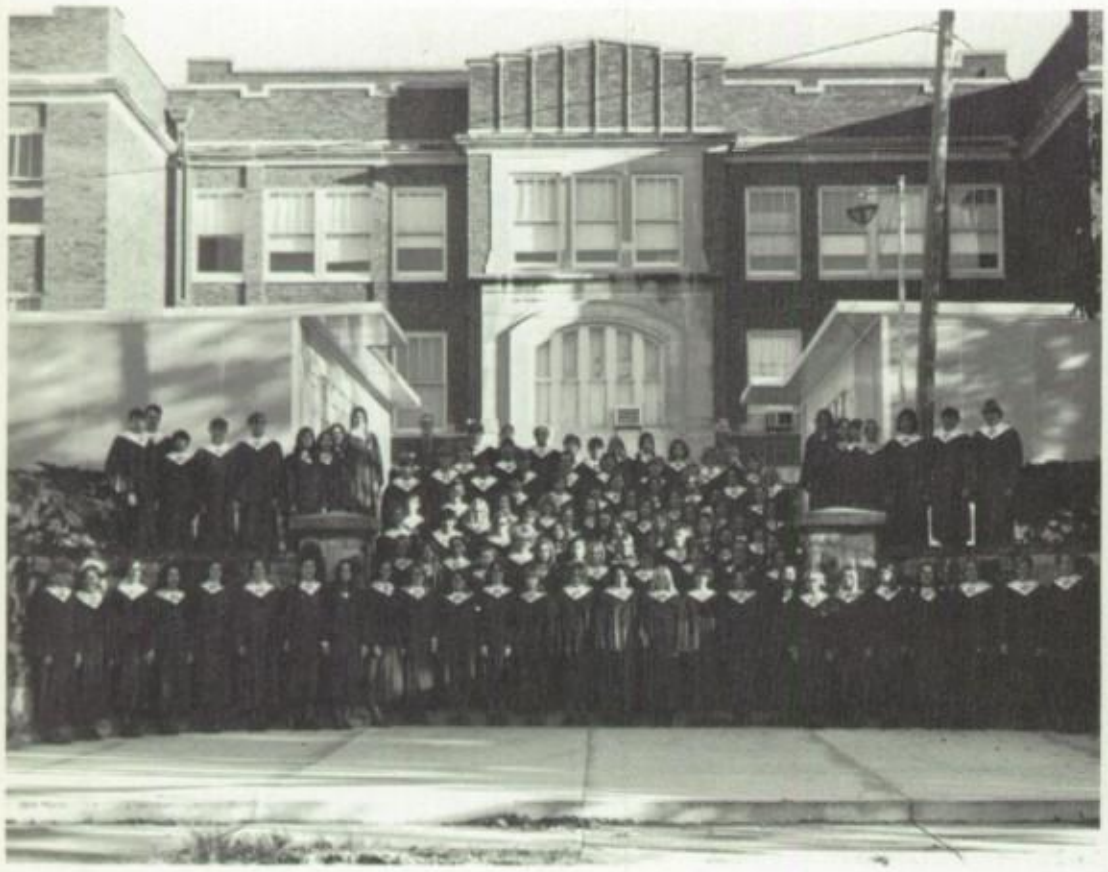
FRESHMAN CHORUS



Congratulations for the ratings received by Beloit High School musicians at the State Music Festival held at Concordia Friday, April 2.

Those reaching the ultimate goal of I ratings were as follows: B.H.S. Singers, Girls Ensemble #0, Mixed Chorus (sight reading) Sharon Heidrick, Pat Polhammer, String trio, orchestra (sight reading), Vicki Bruce, Carol Campbell, Sara Severance, and Ron Peterson.

We received twenty-three II's, five III's, and two IV's.

Literary Staff

Cindy Spatz, Co-editor

The journalism students published the "B. H. S. Life," monthly, including news of student achievements, dances, and sporting events with accompanying photography by Fred Putman and Mike Snyder. The two journalism classes also sponsored a "Mr. Foot" contest and organized a booster club. The journalists compiled the 1971 yearbook utilizing many new features such as color and tints.

Research Center

From librarian, to counselor, to athletic booster, Mrs. Larson's office is always open to students or fellow faculty members. She changed the stereotyped "old-maid librarian by adding males to her staff. In all, she had nineteen assistant librarians and circulated over 600 books per month.

Stuco-Officers

Service to the school and to the students were the goal of the B.H.S. Student Council, sponsored by Mr. Phil Becker. Gary Tripp, heading the group, met frequently with Superintendent Bottom and Principal Levin to open doors of faculty-student communication. The group sponsored the homecoming activities, the renting of the pop machine, and other money making projects.

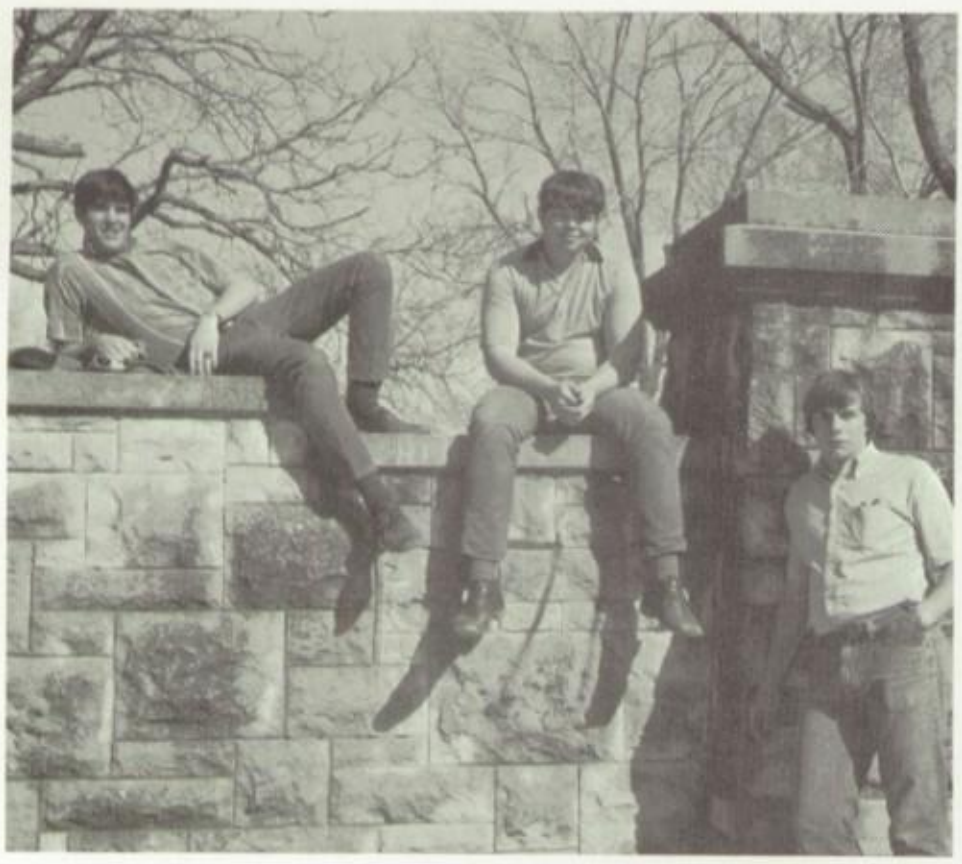
Y-Teens, lead by Miss Gilmore and Miss Kady, began its year's activities with the "Big-Little Sister" picnic. A panel of ex-graduates from B.H.S. spoke on college preparation, favors were made for the hospital patients and a father-daughter banquet, highlighted the year.

Twenty-two ladies attended the Y-Teen Conference at Phillipsburg October 6, 1970. Cindy Nelson represented her chapter as a I.C.C. delegate.

HI-Y



Officers: Joe Schmitt, President; Joe Jorgensen, Vice-President; Doug Beeler, Stuco; Dave Shipp, Devotions; Steve Hartman, Secretary; Jim Vetter, Treasurer.

MR. ROWH, SPONSOR

Hy-Y, under the direction of Mr. Jay Rowh, had a BAD year everything was canceled because of previous scheduled activities. Selling popcorn was their chief money making project and the club can boast of a year in the black, for no money was spent, except for this.

Future Nurses, sponsored by Liz Schmidt, had its second successful year. Increasing from eighteen to twenty-nine, these ladies have been active in community health projects such as the rubella clinic, blood mobil, and eye and ear exams of all students in the Beloit area.

COORDINATOR BYRON COOK

Tuesday, April 27, was the 2nd Annual Creative night sponsored by Tells. The program included two plays written by two Tells members, Janette Dooley, and Mike Kadel. Other people who helped to make the program a success were: Don File, Linda Elder, Lisa VanPelt, Scott Reiter, Marilyn Wilson, Greg Hansen, Joe Mehl, Deb Dean, Mickie Coe, Pam Dameron, Pat Pohlhammer, Cindy Spatz, Carolyn Wilson, Terry Tevis, Gary Tripp, Randy File, Lee Ludwig, and Karen Bassford. Coordinator was Byron Cook. Also the Tells made their 2nd Annual Windows. To high light the year, five members of Tells Mickie Coe, Pam Dameron, Pat Pohlhammer, Janette Dooley, and Susan Seely's writings were put in Kansas Young Writers.

Seven returning senior lettermen shared the spotlight of an 11-9 record, making the 1971 season a tense but exciting year. The squad outscored all of their opponents in field goals, but fell to defeat in their inabilities at the free throw line. The league tourney at Lincoln proved disastrous, but the Trojans were undefeated in non-league play. Joe Schmitt and Doug Beeler were named to the All-League team.

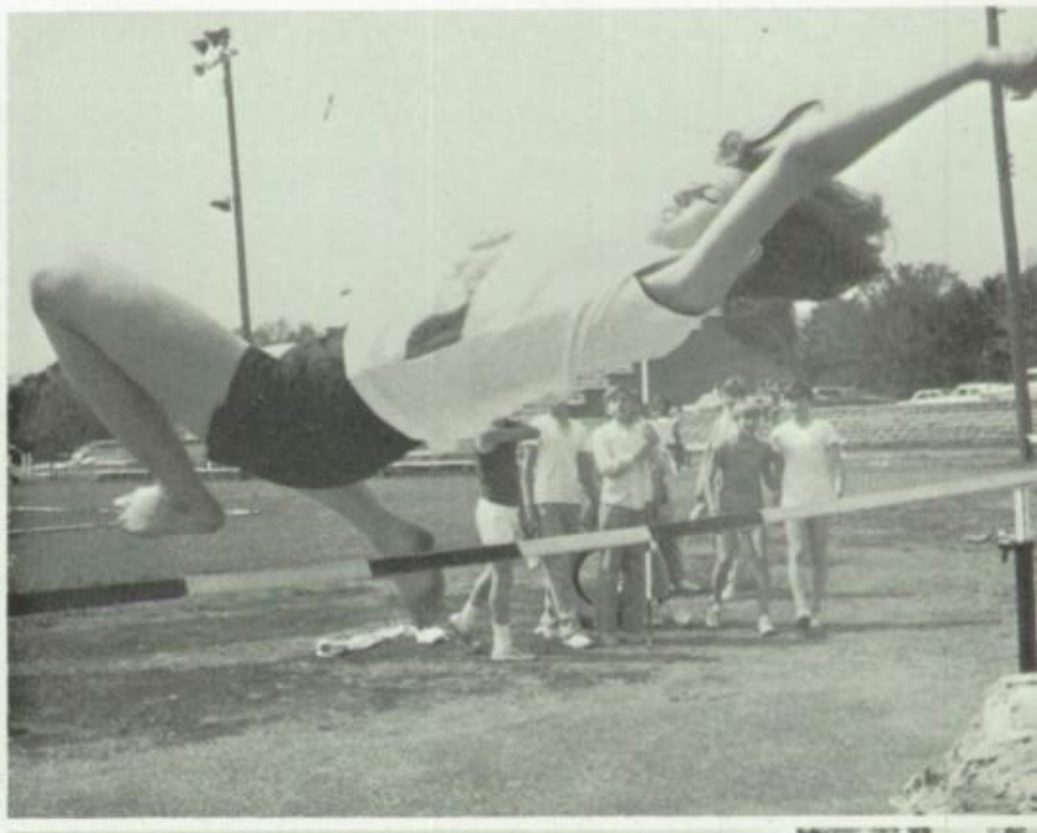
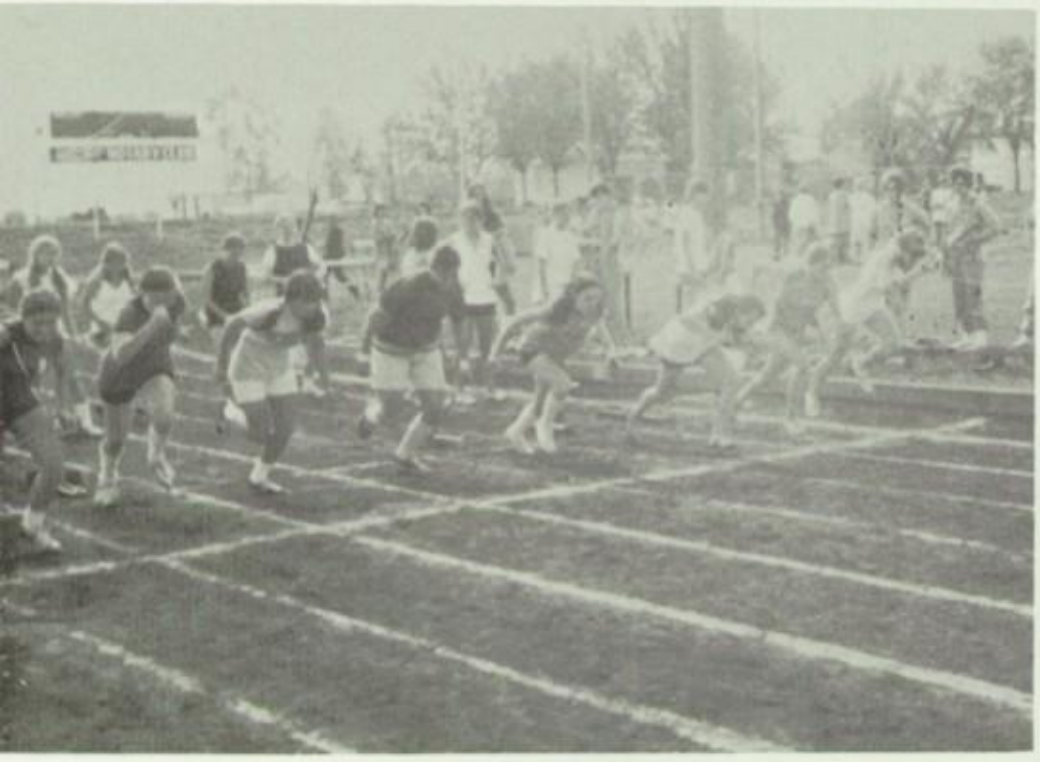
GIRLS TRACK





Golf Squad

This year, the golfers, under the direction of Coach Schmidt, finished third in the NKL golf meet. The highlight of the Trojan season came at Ellsworth when every Trojan competing received a medal. Mike Chester led the team by being first medalist in one tournament and finishing near the top in several others.
